

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

May 2016

Since the budget was enacted on April 2, 2016 the Legislature has been very quiet. Although they were in session for a few weeks after the budget passed, they then took an extended recess until May 3, 2016.

As in the past few years, the Legislature has been somewhat distracted by a series of investigations and indictments; the latest dealing with Cuomo administration's handling of construction projects including the Buffalo Billion, SUNY Polytechnic Institute and affordable housing. That, combined with the recent Senate special election on Long Island, the presidential primaries and an abbreviated session calendar leaves little time to address outstanding issues.

With only 15 remaining session days before the scheduled adjourn date of June 16th and the Senate being somewhat weakened with two members of the majority convalescing from surgeries, the likelihood is that few controversial issues will be addressed. Among the issues expected to be considered, however, are New York City mayoral control of schools, affordable housing, ethics reform and transportation networks.

As in the past we have been following a number of significant bills which affect the industry. Below is a listing of those bills with shaded items indicating some movement.
